Mama chicken named them butter,sunny,banana and Red. She was always being bullied by her
brothers for being red.
They would called her
names like strawberry,tomato face or fire hydrant. And they would not let her play with them.

The yellow chicks told the new purple chicken to come play with them but he said no! He also said that they need to learn a lesson to not bully their sister just because she is red!

The purple chicken went off to go find red

The purple chicken found her and said his name was pitch and asked her what her name was. And she said her name is red.

Then they became friends and hung out all of the time!

Then after years of playing together
they fell in love and got married!💍

because we love you
no matter what!!”
