

The Adventures of a Mermaid Princesses

There once was a mermaid princess named Sophie.

She had pink hair and a rainbow fin.

She was sitting on the couch on her day off of school.

Very! Very bored!

But she got the idea to go off
on an adventure!

To explore her underwater world.

She wanted to visit the coral reef of rainbows.

So she started swimming there.

But when she got to the gate of the coral reef, a sea anemone stopped her!

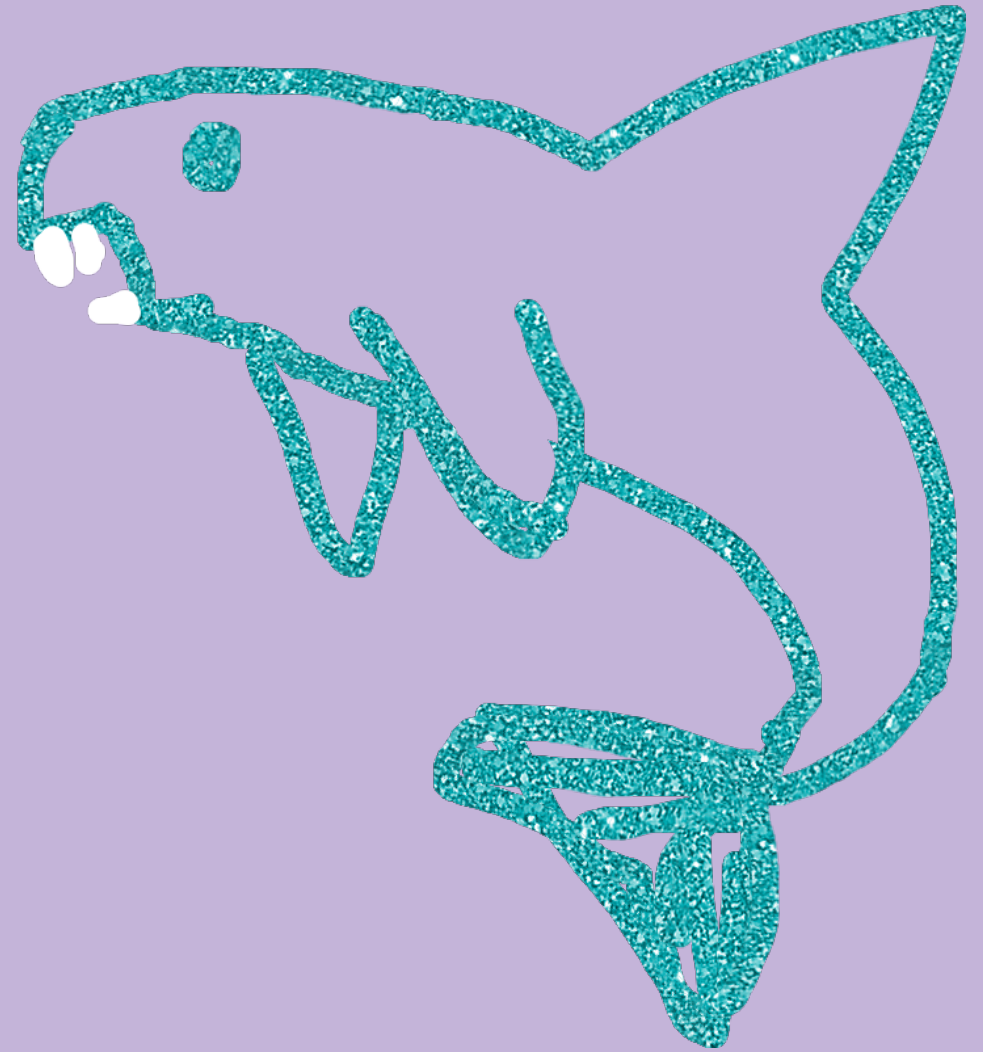

The sea anemone said,

“No mermaids allowed! Only sharks!”

“If you pass I’ll give you nightmares forever!”

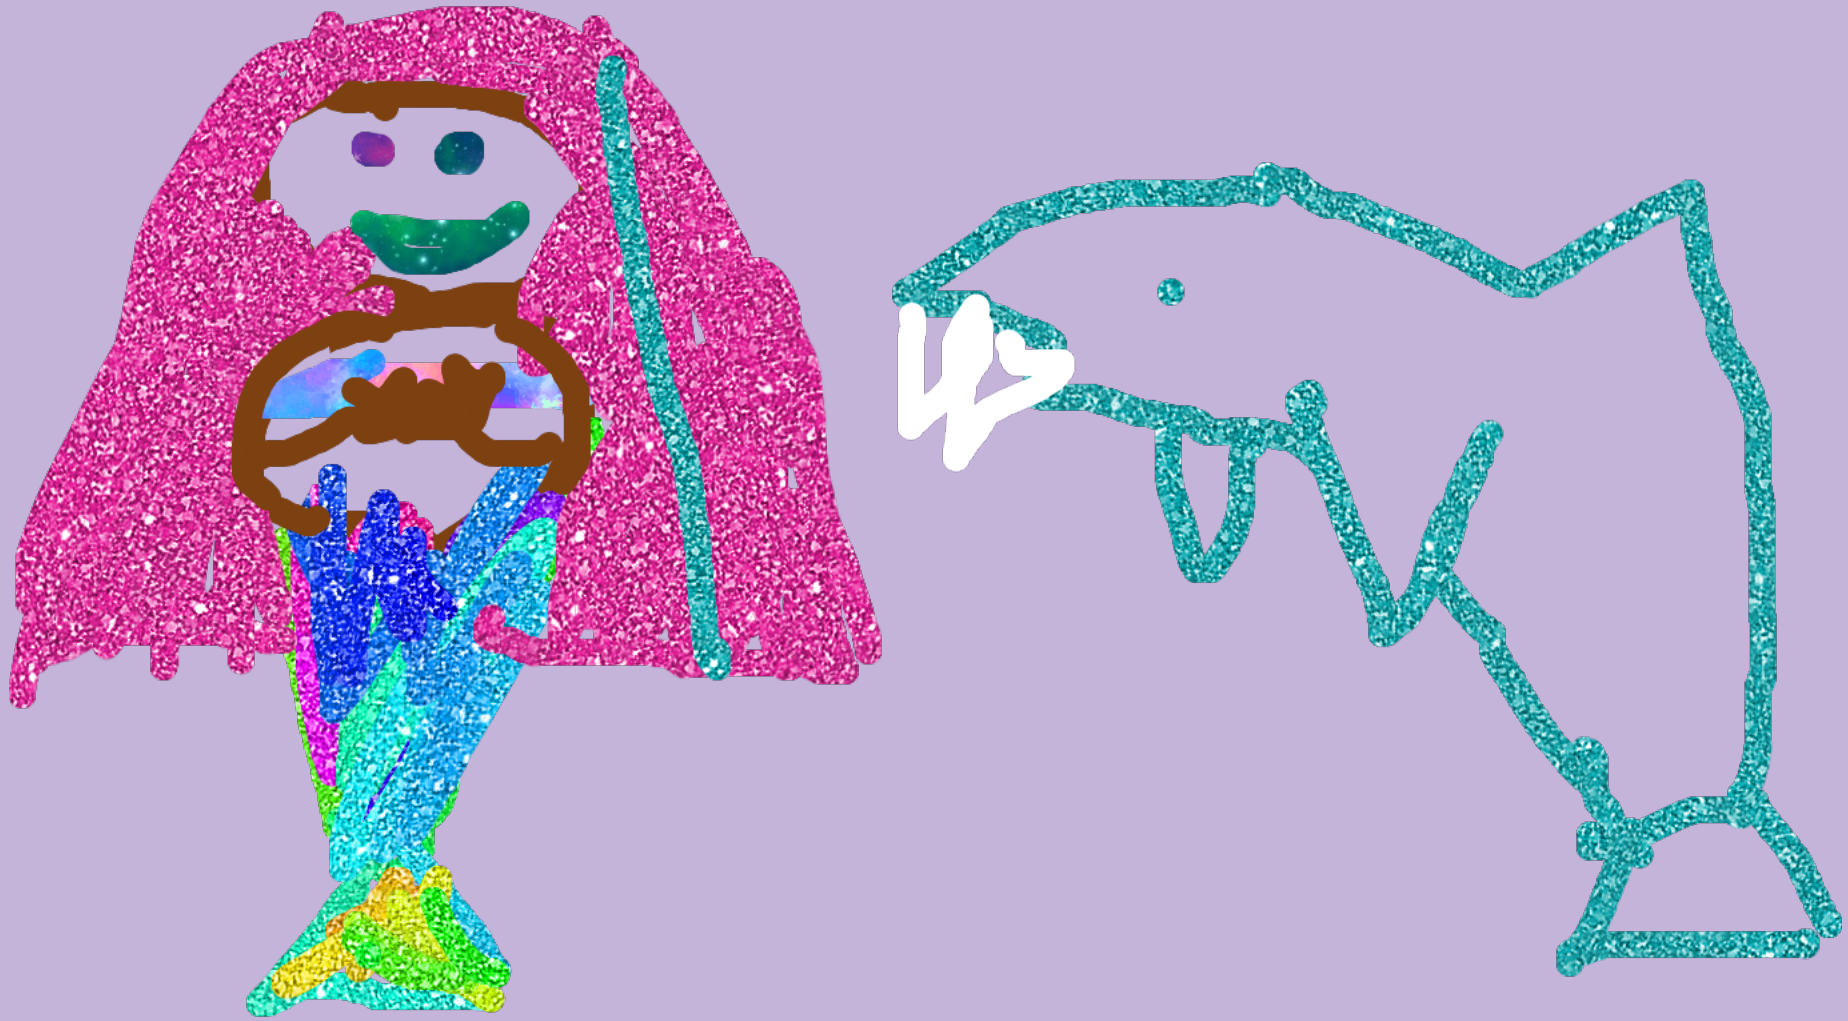

The mermaid was so so scared, so she turned around and started thinking of a plan.

“Aha!” she thought.

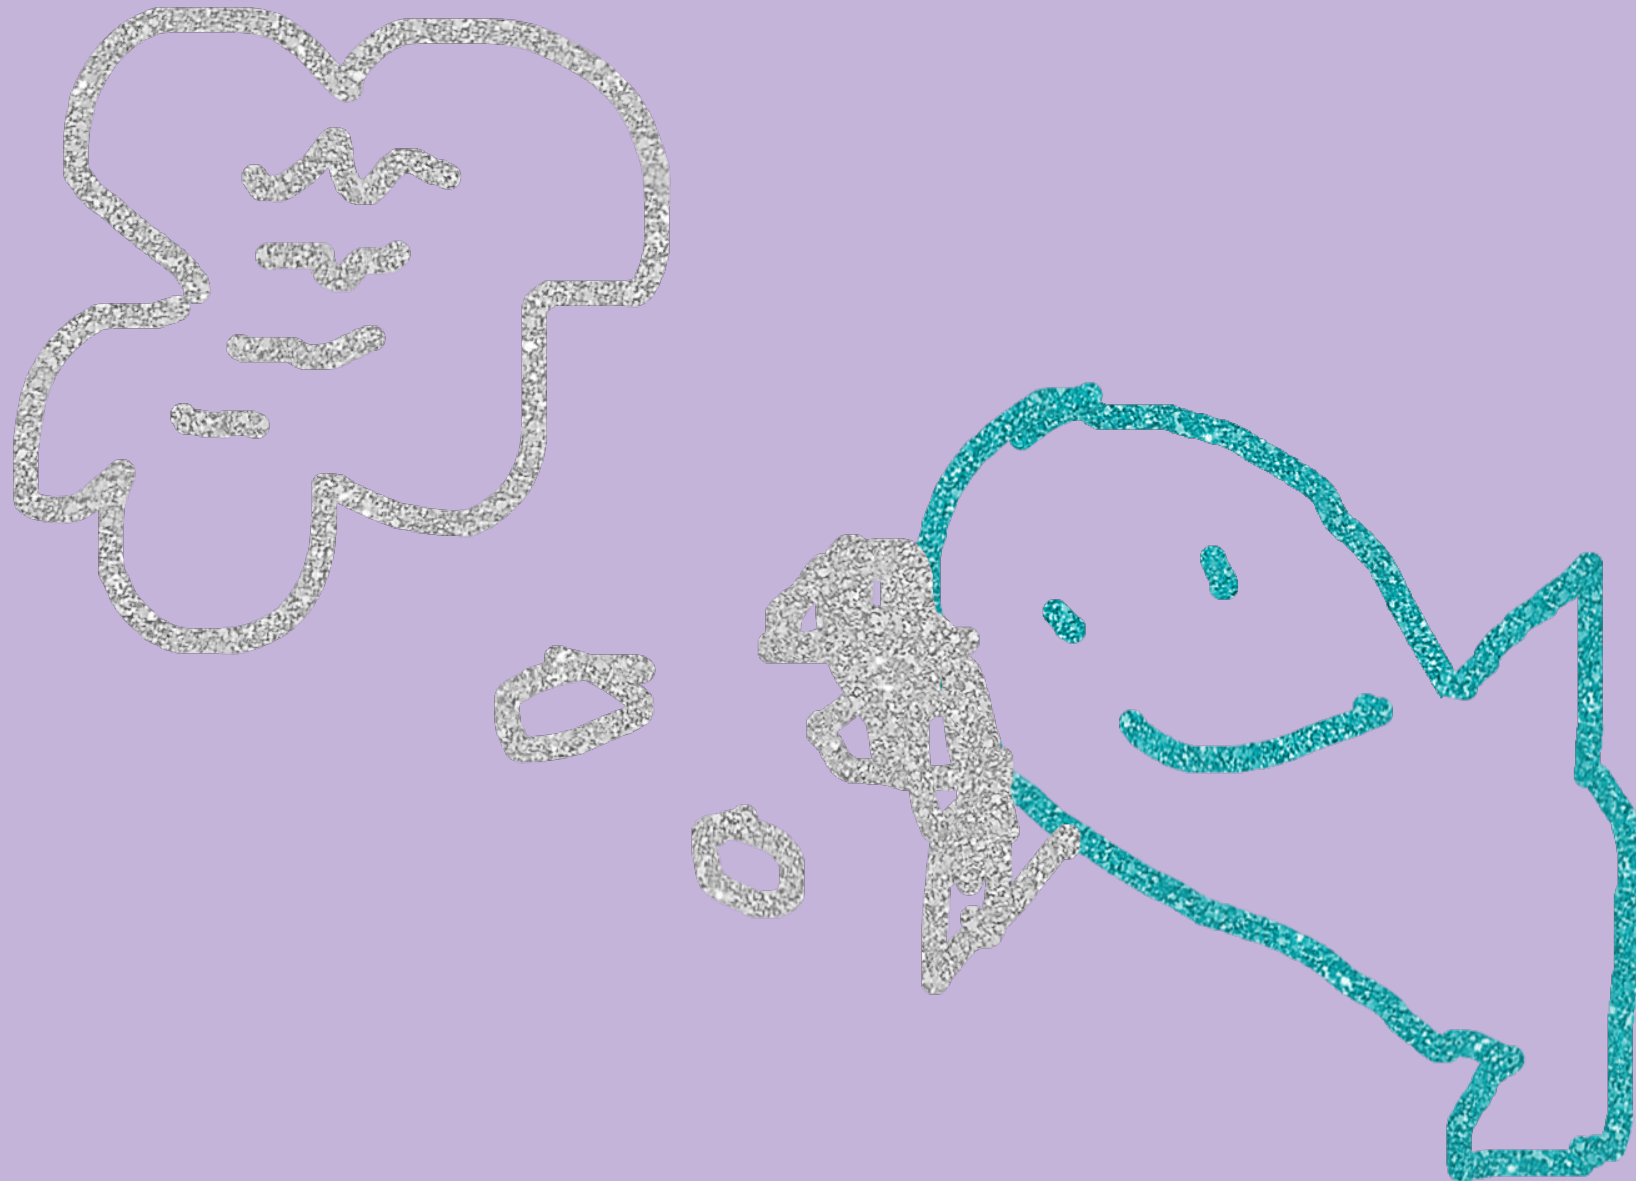

She would dress up as a shark!

So she got her shark costume on, and swam back over to the sea anemone.

The sea anemone said, "You may pass if you are a shark."

So she mustered all her courage and said in her best shark voice, “I am not a mermaid! I’m just a shark!”

So the sea anemone let her pass.

And she explored the coral reef full of wonders and rainbows.

But after a while she decided it was time to leave. And she was a little scared when she swam up to the gate, but then she remembered she had her shark costume on.

So she went to swim through, but the sea anemone stoppped her! He said, "Wait you have to say the secret code."

She stuttered, “Ummm ‘please’?”

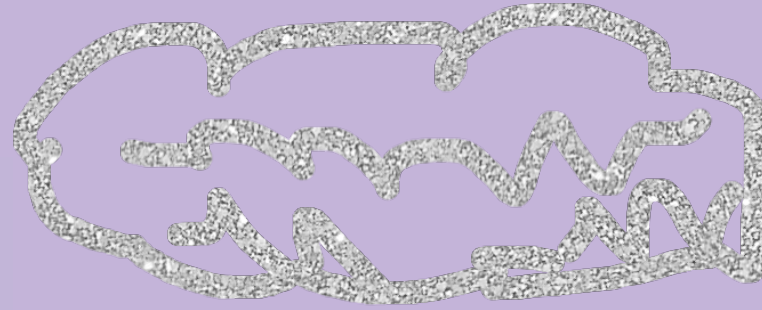

“Wrong!” the sea anemone shouted.
“The password was ‘sharks’ and I see your shark costume slipping! You are a mermaid so I will have to give you nightmares forever.”

“Nooo! Please don’t give me nightmares forever!” the mermaid said.

The sea anemone replied, “Ughhh fine, I won’t give you nightmares forever. But never come back!”

“Okay”, she said. And she hurried home to hide under her covers.
